Hints to Travellers.

From Hall's Journal of Health. Take one-fourth more money than your actual estimated expenses.

Acquaint yourself with the geography of the route and region of travel. Have a good supply of change, and have no bill or piece higher than ten dollars, that you may not take counterfeit change.

S. arrange it as to have but a single article of luggage to look after. Dress substantially; better be too hot for two or three hours at noon, than to be too cold for the remainder of the twenty-four.

Arrange, under all circumstances, to be at the place of starting fifteen or twenty minutes before the time, thus allowing for unavoidable or unanticipated detention on the way.

Do not commence a day's travel before breakfast, even if that has to be eaten at day light. Dinner or supper, or both, can be more healthfully dispensed with than a good warm breakfast. Put your purse and watch in your vest pocket, and put all under your pillow, and you will not be likely to leave either. The most, if not secure, fastening of your chamber door, is a common bolt on the inside;

if there is none, lock the door, turn the key so that it can be drawn partly out; and put the wash basin under it; thus, any attempt to use a jimmy or put in another key, will push it out, and cause a racket among the crockery, which will be pretty certain to rouse the sleeper and rout the robber. A sixpenny sandwich eaten leisurely in the cars is better for you than a dollar dinner bolted at a "station." Take with you a month's supply of patience, and all ways think thirteen times before you reply once to any supposed rudeness, or insult, or inattention. Do not suppose yourself specially and designedly neglected, if waiters at hotels do not bring what you call for in double quick time; nothing so distinctly marks the well bred man as a quiet waiting on such occasions.

Passion proves the puppy.

Do not allow yourself to converse in a tone loud enough to be heard by persons two or three seats from you; it is a mark of a boor if in a man, and of want of refinement and ladylike delicacy, if in a woman. A gentleman is not noisy; ladies are serene.

Comply cheerfully and gracefully with the customs of the conveyance in which you travel, and of the place where you stop. Respect yourself by exhibiting the manners of a gentleman and a lady, if you wish to be treated as such, and then you will receive the respect of others. Travel is a great leveller; take the position which others assign you from your conduct, rather than from your pretensions. [COMMUNICATED. I have done with the late King of Naples and his eulogist, and do not desire to tax the public patience any longer. If I have opened the eyes of any to the insinuating attempts of would be Bombas, (if they dare,) I am content; and further, I feel I have done my duty by entering my protest on the files of the Gazette, against the communication of this eulogist. June 22, 1859. [COMMUNICATED.

A Case Quoted

Francis Allibert, a native of the Department de Var in the South of France, left there during the drawing of the conscription in 1839, and was actually drawn as a conscript, and was therefore an echape de la conscrip-tion. He arrived at New Orleans, made the usual application for citizenship, and was duly naturalized in 1845. He was successful in business in Louisiana, and in July, 1852, after an absence of nearly fourteen years, he returned to visit his family in his native village, and under the vigilant police in France he was arrested in 24 hours after his return. He immediately wrote to Mr. Hodge as the nearest American Consul; the latter, that he might the better attend to the case, immediately requested that Mr. Allibert might be brought to Marseilles, which request was promptly acceded to by the Gen-eral-in-Chief commanding the military division. He was there brought before the Tribunal de Guerre as an Insoumis, and condemned. Mr. Allibert was willing to pay 4,000 francs for a substitute, but Mr. Hodge would not allow him even to make the offer, but obtained a rehearing of his case, appeared in person before the Tribunal de Guerre, and pleaded the case; and after two trials and a detention of six months, he was acknowledged an American citizen, and orders came from the Minister of War at Paris, directing his release. Mr. Hodge gave him a passport which was vise by the police, and with which he remained some weeks with his family, travelled through France, and embarked at Ha-ment of State gives the full details of the case, and Mr. Everett, the Secretary of State under Mr. Fillmore, on the 3d of March, 1853. (the last day he was in office) wrote a complimentary letter to Mr. Hodge in which that M. Allibert, whose arrest and imprisonment as an Insoumis, although a naturalized citizen of the United States, as mentioned in your communication, has been released.— This is undoubtedly due to the firm and decided stand maintained throughout the long controversy in your official correspondence with the authorities on the subject. It is much to be desired that this case may be considered as a precedent, as you intimate, and that hereafter naturalized citizens of the United States may visit France without danger of arrest for military service. In this event, a hurtful source of irritation and unfriendly feeling will be avoided."-New York Express.

IMPROVEMENTS .- The Culpeper County Court, on Monday, adopted a resolution to pave the streets along the public square, the Town Corporation having previously paved the whole of Main Street, with that exception. The vote in favor was 4 to 1. The measure was ably advocated by John C. Green and Jas. Barbour.

The Court, at the same time, agreed to repair, and, to some extent, re-model the old Jail—now a perfect nuisance—adopting the plan offered by Mr. John R. Spilman, of Fauquier.—Blue Ridge Rep.

HARVEST .- The wheat in this county is rapidly maturing, and harvest will begin the latter part of this week. We have found it impossible, by inquiries of farmers in different parts of the county, to come to any reliable conclusion as to the yield. Many fields have been seriously injured by the fly, &c., but on the whole we anticipate a good crop. - Staunton Spectator.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION .- It has been determined to celebrate our National holiday, in an appropriate manner, at Brandy Station, in Culpeper County. It is expected that J. Horace Lacy will deliver an oration on the occasion.

A special term of the District Court of the United States will be held in Staunton next month, beginning on the 5th, for the trial of the celebrated "Jarvis Cases."

Maysville Bonds.

It will be interesting to such of our citicens as hold any of the bonds of the city of Maysville, in Kentucky, for the interest upon which no provision has been made for year or two past, to learn that the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, on Tuesday of last week, affirmed the decision rendered by Judge Phister at the April term of the Mason Circuit Court for 1858, in the case of Graham & Knox vs. Alex. Maddox and others, composing the Board of Councilmen for the city of Maysville.

This was an application upon the part of the plaintiffs, holding certain bonds of the city of Maysville, issued in part payment of its subscription to the capital stock of the Maysville and Lexington Railroad Company, for a mandamus to compel the City Council to levy and collect a tax to pay the interest due and in arrear on said bonds; and the case having been elaborately argued on the 29th day of April, 1858, Judge Phister rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiffs. The defendants appealed, and the decision of the Circuit Court is sustained. The Court of Appeals has awarded a mandamus, as asked for by the plaintiffs, and its decision is emphatic on all the points involved.

The Maysville Eagle of Friday last, referring to this decision, says:-"This termimatter so as to release our people from the heavy burden which it fastens upon them.

"What effect it will have upon the busiiess and prosperity of the city, is of course yet to be developed."

Ship-Building in Virginia.

The Norfolk Herald, referring to an article in the Richmond Dispatch, on this subject, says there was more ship-building done century and a half ago, in and about Norfolk and on the waters of Virginia, than now. Since that remote period, says the Herald, both ship-building and the timber trade have consumed whole forests and cleared up millions of acres of land that are now under cultivation, while what remains of the timber has appreciated in value so as to bring that of the virgin forests of the Lake country (since a pathway has been opened to them from the ocean,) into successful competition with it, though one or two thousand miles farther from the market.

Missing .- Hiram H. Goodrich, M. D., formerly of Potsdam, St. Lawrence county, N. Y., has very mysteriously disappeared from his family, residing at Anandale, Fairfax co., Virginia, and is supposed to be dead. Seven weeks ago, he left Alexandria on a boat to go about twenty miles above Georgetown, to see a gentleman named J. Cross, on business. He was to have been back the next day, but has not been seen or heard of since. He was of about medium height, rather stout built, had blue eyes, florid complexion, and a full suit of beard, and was lressed when he left in coarse clothes and shoes. He was a man of good morals and temperate habits, and never associated with bad company. Any information concerning him would be thankfully received by his afflicted family, either through the papers or by letter addressed to Anandale Post Office, Fairtax county, Va. If this should meet the eye of any of the relatives or friends of the family, they are requested to correspond as above. District, New York, and other papers will confer a great kindness upon an afflicted and deserving family by copying the above paragraph.

P. S .- We have a letter from the family of the missing man, stating that they had heard a rumor to the effect that the body of a stranger had been taken out of the canal somewhere above Georgetown and brought to Washington for burial. If the Coroner of the District has held an inquest within the last seven weeks upon the body of any unknown man answering to the above description, they ask that he will have the kindness to give information as above. - Wash. Star

The body of a man was found in the Alexandria Canal, in Alexandria county. somewhere about the 27th or 28th of May. The body was well dressed, and there was a heavy stone tied by a rope to the neck. It had been in the water, apparently for some time. The Coroner held an inquest upon it, and the jury rendered a verdict of "death by drowning." The finding of the body &c , was noticed in the Gazette, on the 1st of this month.

It was testified vesterday that on his return from Richmond, Ray informed the officers in charge of him that in 1856 he and his gang had a complete set of skeleton keys for the purpose of entering the United States Treasury and the Bank of the Metropolis and that the only reason why those buildings were not assailed was the apprehension that there might be a necessity of killing one or more of the watchmen; an extent of crime to which they did not deem it advisable to go. - Nat.
